

SOUTHERN UNION CONFERENCE
SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST® CHURCH

Amireh Al-Haddad

Amireh Al-Haddad is the Director of Public Affairs and Religious Liberty for the Southern Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

She holds a BA in History from Atlantic Union College. She is also a certificated paralegal having graduated from the Southeastern Paralegal Institute in Nashville, Tennessee. While attending paralegal school, she interned in the General Civil Department at the Tennessee State Attorney General's Office in Nashville.

She came to the Southern Union in 1992 and has worked as the associate director for many years. Amireh was elected the Departmental Director in September 2006.

Overseeing and heading up the Public Affairs & Religious Liberty Department is fast paced and exciting. Some of the issues she deals with include Sabbath accommodation problems, legislative issues throughout the union, current public events that relate to religious liberty and the Church. She also oversees managing the Southern Union Liberty magazine subscriptions and the Religious Liberty offering.
